Cost: $70.00

Location: 1307 Iverson Rd. NE 30307

Course Description

Professionals who work with people in counseling or conflict can improve outcomes by strengthen their awareness of what is going on, while at the same time keeping their mind open and not blocking creative processes. This workshop will look at several improvisational techniques that can improve your skill navigating difficult conversations. These techniques will be both very challenging and a lot of fun. We will look at improvisation techniques to discover what successful improvers do that will also work when navigating difficult conversations.

Presenters: Dr. Voyles has 20 years professional mediation experience, including EEO, Federal workplace, juvenile, magistrate court, landlord tenant, domestic and domestic violence, roommate disputes, neighborhood disputes, as well as church conflicts. He is a mediator coach, mentor, and trainer and has been studying and performing improv since 2010. He is a published author and a highly sought after speaker and coach across the United States.

Lesly Fredman is a Creativity Coach (www.leslyfredman.com); Managing and Artistic Director of Theatre on the Prowl, with over 30 years experience teaching improvisation, performing, and directing numerous theatrical productions. She is the co-creator/leader, with Imago therapist Jesse Bathrick, of playshops for couples. She is a member of the Creativity Coaching Association and the Artist Conference Network, a nationwide coaching community of artists.
